12. National Security-Related Export Controls

Yokohama National University has instituted its own rules for national security-related export controls based on the Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act and rigorously screens the admission of international students to control the transfer of goods obtained in Japan to other countries, provision of technology, and exchange of personnel. Any international students subject to export control regulations may have restrictions placed on their chosen research activities, or may be ineligible to receive education at the University. Prospective students should therefore consult their proposed academic advisor before submitting their application, or take other precautionary measures when applying to study at the University. Foreign students are required to sign a pledge to comply with the "Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Law" at the time of admission. For details, please refer to the Research Promotion Organization website. https://www.ripo.ynu.ac.jp/index/adscreening_jp.
